Order Dismissing and Closing Case

11 On May 22, 2017, the court held oral argument on defendants' motions to dismiss.¹
12 Plaintiff, who appears to be filing documents with a "sovereign citizen" theme, filed a "writ of 13 erroe qua corum nobis residant," challenging this court's authority to set a hearing on the motions 14 to dismiss² (arguing primarily that the undersigned is a "magistrate" without authority), and then 15 she failed to appear at the scheduled hearing. At the hearing, I granted the motions to dismiss on 16 their merits with leave to amend and gave Bernabe ten days to amend her complaint or have this 17 case dismissed.³

18 Bernabe did not file an amended complaint by the ten-day deadline. She did file a "Writ 19 of Contempt" in which she claims to be "the court" and purports to hold the undersigned in 20 contempt of court.⁴ Bernabe's attempts and arguments are without merit, and because she failed 21 to amend her complaint by the ten-day deadline, I dismiss this action and direct the Clerk of 1 Court to close this case.

2 District courts have the inherent power to control their dockets and “[i]n the exercise of 3 that power, they may impose sanctions including, where appropriate . . . dismissal” of a case.⁵ A 4 court may dismiss an action based on a party’s failure to prosecute an action, failure to obey a
5 court order, or failure to comply with local rules.⁶ In determining whether to dismiss an action
6 on one of these grounds, the court must consider: (1) the public’s interest in expeditious 7 resolution of litigation; (2) the court’s need to manage its docket; (3) the risk of prejudice to the 8 defendants; (4) the public policy favoring disposition of cases on their merits; and (5) the 9 availability of less drastic alternatives.⁷

10 The first two factors, the public’s interest in expeditiously resolving this litigation and the 11 court’s interest in managing its docket, weigh in favor of dismissal. The defendants properly 12 filed motions to dismiss, the court noticed and held a hearing on them, but the plaintiff failed to 13 appear. I granted the motions to dismiss on their merits and made a record of my ruling but 14 (considering this circuit’s liberal amendment policy) gave Bernabe ten days to file an amended
15 complaint if she could plead plausible claims. She did not file an amended complaint, delaying 16 the progress of this litigation.

17 The third factor, risk of prejudice to defendants, also weighs in favor of dismissal because 18 a presumption of injury arises from the occurrence of unreasonable delay in filing a pleading

22 ⁶ See Ghazali v. Moran, 46 F.3d 52, 53–54 (9th Cir. 1995) (dismissal for noncompliance with 23 local rule); Ferdik v. Bonzelet, 963 F.2d 1258, 1260–61 (9th Cir. 1992) (dismissal for failure to 24 comply with an order requiring amendment of complaint); Carey v. King, 856 F.2d 1439, 1440–41 (9th Cir. 1988) (dismissal for failure to comply with local rule requiring pro se 25 plaintiffs to keep court apprised of address); Malone v. U.S. Postal Service, 833 F.2d 128, 130
26 (9th Cir. 1987) (dismissal for failure to comply with court order); Henderson v. Duncan, 779
F.2d 1421, 1424 (9th Cir. 1986) (dismissal for lack of prosecution and failure to comply with local rules).

27 ⁷ Thompson, 782 F.2d at 831; Henderson, 779 F.2d at 1423–24; Malone, 833 F.2d at 130;
28 Ferdik, 963 F.2d at 1260-61; Ghazali, 46 F.3d at 53.

1 ordered by the court or prosecuting an action.⁸ Bernabe was given ten days to file an amended
2 complaint if she could cure the defects in her original complaint; she failed to do so. Instead, she 3 continues to challenge this court’s jurisdiction to take any action in this case—which is a 4 particularly ironic argument considering that it was Bernabe herself who filed this lawsuit in this 5 court and paid the filing fee to have this court preside over this case.⁹

6 A court’s warning to a party that her failure to obey the court’s order will result in 7 dismissal satisfies the fifth factor’s “consideration of alternatives” requirement.¹⁰ The fourth 8 factor—the public policy favoring disposition of cases on their merits—is greatly outweighed by 9 the factors favoring dismissal. And, as I explained at the duly noticed hearing on the motions to 10 dismiss, which Bernabe failed to attend, Bernabe’s claims as pled lack merit. So even this factor 11 weighs in favor of dismissal.

12 Accordingly, IT IS HEREBY ORDERED that this case is DISMISSED. The Clerk of 13 Court is directed to CLOSE THIS CASE.
